Dear Mr. Aguanno:

On January 27, 2007, the University of Pittsburgh at Bradford was fortunate enough to have Peter Garber as our keynote speaker at our ninth annual From Backpack to Briefcase Leadership Conference. Peter spoke to an audience that included college students, faculty, staff, alumni and administrators.

Having coordinated this program from its inception nine years ago, I can truthfully say that Peter was one of the most engaging and informative speakers to date. The theme of his speech was "Strengthening Communications and Relations at Work" and he was able to motivate, inform and inspire our audience. He has a very engaging style and interacts extremely well with his audience. Moreover, he was able to share interesting anecdotes and stories from his years in management to illuminate a point or illustrate a concept.

After his keynote address, many individuals, including our University President, commented on the quality of Peter's presentation. In short, I would strongly recommend Peter Garber as a speaker to groups of all size and backgrounds. He has the ability to relate to his audience and deliver a quality program that is enjoyable and informative.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,
